CIRCUIT COURT.

Monday was the first day of the April term of the circuit court. Judge Cantrill came here on the 11:30 a. m. F. & C. train.

Court was called to order at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

The following gentlemen were empaneled and sworn as the grand jury:

W. A. Powers, foreman; J. E. Manford, David Laceyfield, Edward Price, James Jones, G. C. Smith, G. F. Karsner, S. F. Armstrong, Albert Hockensmith, James T. Duval, J. L. Penn, and Wm. Gatewood.

They were instructed by the judge, and went to work.

All corporation cases were continued.

On Tuesday the following gentlemen were selected as petit jurymen for the term:

C. W. McQueen, W. D. McChesney, Sam A. Parrent, Jas. W. Hughes, W. A. Moore, Forrest Harrod, Jas. W. Winters, R. L. Kirk, Allen Vaughan, James Sanford, John Polsgrove, Drane Hughes, J. T. Larkin, Jeff Minor, Adolph Beck, R. E. Lewis, R. L. Redding, Edgar Hardesty, Wm. Minor—19.

The sheriff was ordered to summon five competent jurors to complete the panel, who are to report on Tuesday morning next, to which time all the jurymen were excused.

The judge announced that he would give the time from now until then to civil cases not requiring juries; that the case of Capt. Garnett D. Ripley was the only criminal case that would be tried at this term. All the other criminal cases were continued until the September term.

HE KEPT HIS LEG.

Twelve years ago J. W. Sullivan, of Hartford, Conn., scratched his leg with a rusty wire. Inflammation and blood poison set in. For two years he suffered intensely. Then the best doctors urged amputation, "but," he writes, "I used one bottle of Electric Bitters and one and one-half boxes of Bucklen's Arnica salve and my leg was sound and well as ever." For eruptions, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, sores and all blood disorders Electric Bitters has no rival on earth. Try them. For sale by J. W. Gayle. Will guarantee satisfaction or refund money Only 50c.

NARROW ESCAPE.

As Mrs. N. M. Crutcher and daughters were returning to their home, near Duckers, on Monday afternoon, a horse attached to a wagon ran away and ran into the buggy occupied by Mrs. Crutcher and daughters, breaking down one of the wheels and throwing the ladies out, but without serious injury. The accident occurred, luckily, close to the residence of Mr. B. Todd Crutcher, at Hoge Station. Mr. Crutcher procured another wheel for the buggy and the ladies went on home.

Spring coughs are specially dangerous and unless cured at once serious results often follow. One Minute Cough Cure acts like magic. It is not a common mixture but is a high grade remedy. South & Longmoor and W. McKee Hardie.

8 pound cans of Bartlett pears at 64 cents per can at Langdon-Creasey Co.'s. 30-11.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

Postmaster S. B. Holmes has appointed Mr. Walter Brewer as Substitute Letter Carrier to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. Coley Crockett to be Regular Carrier. Mr. Brewer will make a good officer. He was on the eligible list. He is the son of Mr. Jas. A. Brewer, and has held a position with Mr. R. B. Jillion, jr., for several years.

You can not enjoy perfect health, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes if your liver is sluggish and your bowels clogged. DeWitt's Little Early Risers cleanse the whole system. They never gripe. South & Longmoor and W. McKee Hardie.

REVENUE TAXES COLLECTED.

Deputy Collector Jacob Swigert made the following collections of internal revenue taxes for the month of March: 2,850 barrels; 105,881 5-10 tax gallons; $116,414.65 amount of tax.

This indicates that the whisky market is getting pretty lively.

"Last winter I was confined to my bed with a very bad cold on the lungs. Nothing gave me relief. Finally my wife bought a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure that effected a speedy cure. I can not speak too highly of that excellent remedy."—Mr. T. K. Houseman, Manatowney, Pa.

KENTUCKIANS LANDED.

Captains A. W. Butt and K. J. Hampton, who have been Quartermasters in the volunteer army, have been appointed by the President to like positions in the regular army.

They are both Kentuckians. Capt. Butt was formerly Washington correspondent of the Evening Post, Louisville. Capt. Hampton was from Winchester, and was Secretary of the Republican State Committee in the Bradley campaign.

"I had piles so bad I could get no rest nor find a cure until I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. After using it once I forgot I ever had anything like piles."—E. C. Boice, Somers Point, N. Y. Look out for imitations. Be sure you ask for DeWitt's. South & Longmoor and W. McKee Hardie.

FEAST OF THE PASSOVER.

Our fellow-citizens of Hebrew extraction observed the Feast of the Passover on Thursday last. Their places of business were closed from sundown of Wednesday afternoon until sundown of Thursday.

THE ROMANCE OF A METROPOLITAN GIRL.

Elizabeth Knight Tompkins, whose "Unlessoned Girl" and "Her Majesty" found such universal favor with fiction lovers, has just completed a new novel, which she has called "Aileen." It is the romance of a metropolitan girl, a singularly sweet invalid who wins her way to every heart. The story will be begun serially in an early issue of The Ladies' Home Journal.

THE INDIAN AND THE NORTH WEST.

A handsomely illustrated book, just issued, bound in cloth and containing 115 pages of interesting historical data relating to the settlement of the great northwest, with fine half-tone engravings of Black Hawk, Sitting Bull, Red Cloud and other noted chiefs. Custer's battle ground and ten colored map plates showing location of the various tribes dating back to 1000. A careful review of the book impresses one that it is a valued contribution to the history of these early pioneers, and a copy should be in every library. Price, 50 cents per copy. Mailed postage prepaid upon receipt of this amount by W. B. Kniskern, 22 Fifth avenue, Chicago, Ill.

JOHN C. CALHOUN'S ONLY LOVE LETTER.

The story of John C. Calhoun's courtship of his pretty cousin is the most formal and stately chapter in the love affairs of the great statesman. His messages to his youthful sweetheart, which shows a studied effort to guard against exuberance in confessing the gentle passion, are embodied in letters to her mother—all but one. Just before their marriage Calhoun's love seemingly would brook no more such restraints, and he wrote his dear Floride a tender avowal, impatiently longing for the wedding day, and signed it "your true lover." This, "The Great Nullifier's" first and only love letter, has recently come to light, and, incorporated in an article on Calhoun's wooing, will appear in an early issue of The Ladies' Home Journal.

THE BEST BLOOD PURIFIER.

DEATHS.

JACOB—In this city, on Monday, Mr. Simon Jacob, aged 78 years, father of Mr. Ferd Jacob and Mrs. Samuel Klass, of this city.

The remains were taken to Louisville for the funeral services and burial. Mr. Jacob was a member of several Hebrew societies.

SCOFIELD—At his home near Hillsboro, Texas, on March 23, Dr. John S. Scofield, aged 76 years.

Dr. Scofield was raised in this county and was a brother of Mrs. Rose Scofield Jenkins, of this city. He removed to Texas many years ago, and acquired a comfortable fortune, which he leaves to his large family of children.

TAYLOR—In Kansas City, Mo., March 28, Mary Lavinia Taylor, for many years a citizen of the West Side, this city. She had many friends in this city.

MATRIMONIAL.

BEDFORD-AYRES—Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Mr. B. Thomas Bedford, son of Mr. Sidney M. Bedford, of White Sulphur, and Miss Sidney J. Ayres, the daughter of the late Ed. M. Ayres, Esq. The happy event will occur at the Forks of Elkhorn Baptist Church, on Wednesday, April 10th.

Mr. Bedford is a handsome young farmer, who has many friends. Miss Ayres is a pretty and accomplished young lady.

SMITH-CRUTCHER—A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, April 8d, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. N. M. Crutcher and wife, near Duck Station, this county, Mr. Fred. Smith, of Woodford county, and Miss Clara Crutcher, being the contracting parties, Rev. H. B. Smith officiating.

The groom is a prosperous young farmer, of the Duck Station neighborhood, while the bride is a gentle, sweet young lady, modest and retiring, yet justly popular with all who know her, and a prize the happy groom can well feel proud of as the queen of his heart and home. Only the relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony, after which the young people went immediately to the home he had prepared and commenced housekeeping in a sensible way. May their wedded life, so auspiciously begun, prove one continued dream of happiness, and all the blessings which flow from the married state be theirs in full measure, heaped up and running over.

It seems but as yesterday that the bride of to-day was a happy-hearted wee tot, making glad our own household with her childish prattle and winning ways, and it is hard to realize that time has wafted her into another home, a blessing and a helpmate in the battle of life. God bless you, little one, and may the sun of prosperity ever shine upon your sunny head, and never silver it with the frost of trouble and care.

TO ADDRESS NORMAL SCHOOL.

On next Friday night, April 12, the Rev. M. B. Adams will address the faculty and students of the State Normal School for colored persons. All persons are invited. The subject of lecture, "The Perils of Idleness."

"ARIZONA."

Arizona, which has scored an immediate success throughout the Union, will be seen at the Capital Theatre.

This play has made an emphatic hit in every State in which it has been presented, and it is conceded by the public and critics alike to be Mr. Augustus Thomas' premier effort. "Arizona," besides being one of the greatest successes which Chicago has seen for years, has just ended a phenomenal run of thirty weeks at the Herald Square

Theatre in New York, and would without doubt have kept on filling the theatre but for the inability of Messrs. La Shelle and Hamlin to move the attraction which had secured the later time at this theatre. The characters depicted in Arizona are life-like in every particular, being taken from the present inhabitants of the Alkali plains and chalk hills surrounding the beautiful Aravaipa Valley in the State from which this play derives its name. The scenic displays are from sketches being in the exact localities by Frederick Remington. The costumes are also designed by Mr. Remington, which will be found to be very correct in every detail.

DARING TRICK.

While the buggy and fine mare of Dr. E. E. Hume were standing in front of the drug store of Messrs. South & Longmoor on Wednesday night, some daring thief jumped into the buggy and drove off out the Louisville pike, nearly to Shelbyville. About 5 o'clock on Thursday morning the mare and empty buggy came down Conway street on ty the St. Clair street bridge at a lively rate, where the mare was stopped and taken to the South Side livery stable, where a friend notified the doctor and he recovered his property.

The singular part of the whole matter was that the mare had done no damage to the buggy in the long hours between its taking and the recovery. Several persons living on the pike telephoned the doctor that they had tried to stop the mare on her way home, but were unsuccessful.

Quick Relief From Pain.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks, of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. W. Gayle.

25c AND 50c PER BOTTLE

We thrill at the story of "Curfew shall not ring to-night." Yet it is melodramatic and commonplace beside the peril every woman runs who faces motherhood. Women are strangely self-sufficient. The exaltation of the fact of motherhood blinds them often to its peril. Yet the husband who can bear no tithe of the mother's pain or peril owes it to himself to see that his wife is in that condition of sound health which minimizes the risk both to mother and child. Many husbands have expressed their gratitude for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, because it makes the pain of motherhood practically nothing and reduces the risk to its lowest possible point.

"Five years my wife was in an almost helpless condition, suffering from female weakness," writes J. B. Everett, Esq., of Mayerson, Washington Co. "In September I decided to have her try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She took several bottles of the medicine and gave birth to a ten pound son on Jan. 1, 1901. She is now sound and well and doing her housework."

FRANKFORT, APRIL 6, 1901.

DEATH OF THOS. J. JETT, ESQ.

Our whole community was shocked on Saturday afternoon, when the news flew over the city that Mr. Thos. J. Jett had died very suddenly at his home on the South Side. Mr. Jett was as well as usual that morning, and had been over on the North Side, as was his custom almost every day. He had returned home, eaten his dinner, shaved himself preparatory to Sunday, and turned to take his seat, when his wife (who had a moment before gone into another room), heard him fall and ran to his side only to find that the vital spark had fled.

Mr. Jett was about 78 years of age, and had spent the whole of his long and useful life in this county. He had been a deputy sheriff under Mr. W. T. Herndon and under Mr. W. J. Chinn in the same office, and deputy U. S. Marshal under his brother, Mr. G. Hiram Jett, before the civil war.

Something over a year ago, the infirmities of age beginning to press upon him, he sold his farm, near Jett Station, and moved to this city to reside.

When a stalwart man he was married to Miss Jennie Darrell, a sister of Esq. W. W. Darrell, of Woodford county, and an aunt of Mr. Jas. S. Darrell, of this city. The union was a blessed and happy one, a large family of three sons and three daughters having grown up around them, and their devotion and affection, the one for the other, is something beautiful to see in these sordid days.

Gentle, kindly and confiding in his nature, Mr. Jett carried with him through his long life the esteem and confidence of all who knew him.

For many years he had been an humble Christian, and a member of Grassy Springs Christian Church.

Last summer his oldest son, and the one to whom, if anything, he was most deeply attached, was foully murdered. Mr. Jett never recovered from the shock, but visibly failed from that time, although he tried to be cheerful for the sake of the dear wife and children.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. K. P. South from the family residence on Shelby street, South Side, on Monday afternoon at 8 o'clock, after which the remains were placed in the family lot in our cemetery.

Our friend from boyhood, and our father's friend, we lay this tribute of affection upon his new-made grave, praying that the God whom he served may comfort the desolate widow and sorrowing children.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.

On Monday night, shortly after 6 o'clock, a shooting scrape occurred between Hon. James A. Violet and Capital Policeman Wingate Thomson, in which the latter narrowly escaped death, the powder burning his face and nose.

It seems that Mr. Violet is the attorney for Mrs. Geo. B. Thomson, in her suit for a divorce. Mrs. Thomson's husband is a brother of Policeman Thomson.

There has considerable bad blood arisen between the parties, as Mr. Violet is prosecuting the case vigorously.

At the time of the shooting Mr. Violet was standing on the St. Clair street bridge, talking to Mr. John Hale (whose wife is a witness for Mrs. Thomson). He had just informed Mr. Violet that the policeman had stated to his wife that Violet was afraid to go to the place appointed for taking depositions.

Just then Thomson passed on a street car, and, after going a short distance, got off and came back to where the two men were standing, with his hands in his pockets.

As soon as he came near enough Violet asked him if he had made the statement as related by Hale. Thomson replied that he had not. Violet remarked that Hale had informed him that he had. Thomson then asked Hale if he had said that he (Thomson) had made the statement to him. Hale said no, but was going on to make a further statement, when Thomson turned and said to Violet that he had told a d—d lie and knew it to be a d—d lie. This so incensed Violet that he at once drew a pistol and fired point blank at Thomson's head. Thomson dodged, and the ball cut so close to Thomson that it burned his face and nose.

Violet was arrested by Policeman Larkin and taken to headquarters where he gave bond in $800.

After the shot Thomson told Violet he could kill him if he wanted to, but that he was unarmed. Violet then said that he would not shoot again and did not. He claims, however, that, from Thomson's attitude that he had his hands on a pistol in his pocket.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. L. W. Howell has received a letter from his daughter, who lives in Birmingham, Ala., giving an account of the narrow escape which she and her family had during the recent cyclone in that city. The storm tore down several houses immediately across the street from her home, and then cut through the yard of her house only about ten feet from the house, tearing up trees by the roots and blowing all the out houses to pieces. The family were badly frightened but luckily escaped damage.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Minnie Williams Keyes entertained on her second birthday, Thursday afternoon, from two to four o'clock. She received her guests with a genuine cordiality and was the graceful recipient of many beautiful birthday gifts.

The miniature tables were arranged to form a large cross. The decorations of ferns and jonquils formed a combination pleasing to look upon but the crowning beauty of the occasion was the dainty white robed cherubs, with their manly little escorts, seated around the festal board, Minnie presiding at one end, blowing out the two tapers which illuminated a beautiful cake of snowy whiteness, and which she herself sliced, guided by a stronger hand. Her little guest, Miss Lilian Meeds, who shared the honor of the day, was opposite, her cake bearing four tapers. A large rabbit pie in the center of the table afforded the greatest pleasure of all. Each guest drew therefrom a rabbit filled with variegated dainties and a basket of Easter eggs on his back. They did justice to the delightful refreshments and when the hour for departure came, many had to be urged by their attendants to leave. Those present were:

Jas. Saffell, Geo. Stagg, Anita Chew, Martha Stagg, Anna Grayot, Alice Williams, Elizabeth Simpson, Helen Warwick, Lilian Meeds, Hines Walcutt, Chas. Roberts, Marshall Adams, Joe Holson, Pauline Hendrick, John E. Frogge, Julia Rodman, Alex Gayle, Walter Chapman, Jno. E. Robertson.

All wished Miss Minnie's future birthdays might be as bright and were willing, by their presence, to assist in making them so.

THE ROBBINS.

A song to-day I heard,
'Twas but a little bird,
And yet my soul was stirred
As by a magic word.
Sing! little red-breast, sing!
Thine is the voice of spring,
And on thy joyous wing
My childhood back you bring.
Old hopes I deemed were dead,
And their last shadows fled,
Came from their grave and led
Me by the hand instead.

Oh, life thou art not vain,
Thy pleasures, sweet with pain,
Each year come back again,
Like daisies in the lane!
Sing! little red-breast, sing!
Thine is the voice of spring,
And on thy joyous wing
My childhood back you bring.

CHEAPER FUEL.

F. E. Hume, president of the Business Men's Club, of Frankfort, Ky., called at the Louisville Board of Trade rooms Wednesday. He is in Louisville for the purpose of securing, if possible, the co-operation of not only the Board of Trade, but every citizen, particularly manufacturers, who are interested in the matter of cheap fuel.

Mr. Hume is about to circulate a petition addressed to the Congressmen representing the Louisville district and the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and eleventh Kentucky districts as well as those from Madison, Ind., and Cincinnati, O., to get their aid in having the next Congress to increase the river appropriations. He said the Kentucky river was in need of six additional locks to the nine already in use. By the additional locks, he said, coal from the Bestville and White Ash mines could be placed on the market at 5 and 8 cents per bushel, and that to accomplish the placing of the additional locks meant a big thing for manufacturing interests. There is already of the old appropriations a sum sufficient to construct two of the needed locks.

The Board of Trade will take up the matter at its next meeting.—Louisville Commercial.

THE KENTUCKY RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

The extension of slack water navigation on the Kentucky river is a matter of great importance, not only to that portion of the State for whose minerals and other products it will furnish an unobstructed outlet, but to every portion of the Ohio and Mississippi Valley. To Louisville the completion of the system of locks and dams which will make the river navigable all the year will be of great advantage and in about the same degree to Cincinnati, which is nearly equidistant from the mouth of the Kentucky river. Its value to all points below the mouth, even as far as New Orleans, will be understood when it is reflected that coal can then be brought at all seasons in barges to the mouth seven hundred miles nearer to the down stream market than Pittsburgh. There will be no sufficient water for transportation down the Ohio the greater part of the year and consumers will not be dependent upon the stage of water in the upper Ohio, which is for full one-half of the year un navigable from low water and ice. In this view the project is wholly relieved of what may appear to the casual mind to be a local one, and that the river is wholly within the State. But it is no more local than the slack water of the Monongahela or Kanawha, which has been obliquely constructed and is operated by the Federal Government. When these rivers are considered the delay in the work, which has been long protracted with promises of indefinite continuation, operates as a protection or bounty to the coal on the other rivers by withholding from the market the competing Kentucky coal.

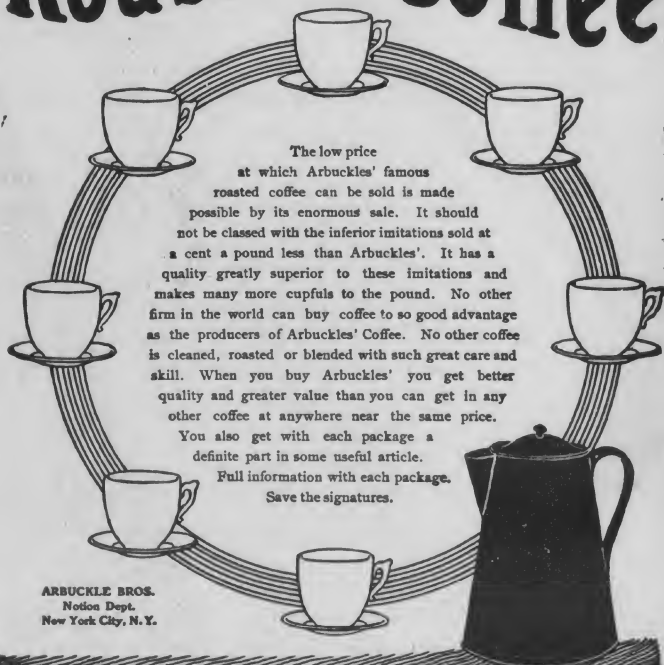

The history of this improvement in brief is as follows: Seventy years ago the State of Kentucky embarked in a great scheme of internal improvements which embraced the building of a railroad from Lexington to Frankfort, the leveling and damming of the Kentucky, Green and Licking rivers, and the construction of an extensive system of turnpikes. It involved the expenditure of five or six million dollars which did much to develop the State, but the management of the system was so unprofitable that one by one the State sold its interests, first in the railroad and later disposed of its locks and dams and turnpikes stock until now it has but a small portion of the latter. In turn, the locks and dams became practically valueless for lack of repairs and were leased to private corporations, but in 1870 the slack water improvements of the Kentucky river were ceded to the United States with the stipulation that they should be repaired and operated by the government with no charge for lockage, and with the understanding, not expressed by formal contract, that the system should be extended to the Three Forks of the Kentucky river 361 miles above its mouth. In 1882 a canal was made of the Green river improvements. At that time there had been completed five locks and dams, the upper, or No. 6, being fourteen miles above Frankfort. Appropriations were made by Congress from one to two hundred thousand a year which for many years was expended chiefly in repairing the old works, improving the general condition of the river, and in building a falling or bear trap dam at the Three Forks, which proved a failure. The tardiness and wasteful expenditure of money, chiefly from the annual small annual appropriations admitting of limited contracts, were such that up to June 30, 1894, there had been expended $1,431,351.78, and only one new lock, No. 6, constructed. The number of locks required to extend navigation to the Three Forks was estimated at 18, leaving still eight more to be constructed. The same report for 1894, from which the foregoing figures are taken, estimated the cost of these new locks and dams at $1,396,000.

Since then, as shown by the report of the Chief of Engineers at Washington for the year ending June 30, 1899, it appears that two more locks and dams have been constructed, the last, No. 8, being at Little Hickman, and extending navigation twenty-two miles above. This leaves something over 100 miles of the river still to be improved which will require six more locks and dams. Their construction is estimated to cost $3,945,000, which is more than twice as much as in 1894 was estimated for the construction of eight locks and dams. The increase in prices, as also the greater cost of transportation as the river is narrowed, accounts in great part for the discrepancy. Capt. H. F. Holmes, the engineer in charge, says the amount would be reduced if the funds were available for continuous work. He also reports that as soon as this season will permit work will begin the construction of lock No. 9, and that the expenditure now authorized by law will probably permit two more besides this to be finished.

It will thus be seen how expensive and dilatory has been this improvement in which so great an area and so large a population are concerned. Summed up, the case stands thus: The United States Government has had charge of this improvement twenty years past. When undertaken it was estimated that the work would cost about $2,000,000. It has now been found that the sum which was estimated of nearly $5,500,000 for completion. By the rule of three, if it takes twenty years to build three locks it will take forty years to build the other six, conditions being the same. But there ought to be some way to hasten this work, and it might be well for the Boards of Trade of Louisville and Cincinnati to see if they can not by co-operation expedite it.—Courier-Journal.
